

TRUTH BY EMILE ZOLA

*Eleventh Thousand. 12mo.
$1.50*

Mr. WALTER LITTLEFIELD, in T&G Critic, says: "Force, power, persuasion, eloquence are there. Marc Froment is Zola himself. Truth is a page from a wonderful autobiography."

The N. T. Commercial Advertiser: "None is so likely to live, and even to enhance his fame as 'Truth.' There is a pronounced flavor of skilful journalism about the whole book."

The Baltimore Sun: "A strong book, a fearfully strong book; the strongest novel that Zola has produced."

The Springfield Republican: "Worth a close study . . . a very powerful tract on the times, and worth reading for the light it throws on contemporary conditions in France."*

The Chicago Record-Herald: "The net result is strong. His selection of title was no affectation."

The Boston Transcript: "It possesses the epic quality inherent in all Zola's work."

The Brooklyn Eagle: "He was actuated by a lofty and sincere purpose — no man ever had a higher. . . . The use made of the Dreyfus affair is clever, and skilfully exploited. The book will be widely read."

Miss LILIAN WHITING, in the Chicago Inter-Ocean, says: "The most powerful novel of modern times."*

Rev. T. McGONADY, of Bellevue, Kentucky, says: "I do not hesitate to pronounce it the ablest work that has ever come from the pen of the distinguished author. It is a mighty bugle call."

The Chicago Evening Post: "Set forth with all his well-known vigor, thoroughness, and passion."

The Cleveland World: "It will command a wide reading, and ought to make a deep impression."

New Haven Courier: "Sustains from start to finish the reader's excitement and intense interest in a vivid dramatic situation."*

The London Chronicle: "A more tremendous indictment of a nation, and, above all, of a nation's Church, has seldom fallen from pen."
